Dr. Laurent DOLLÉ

Curious, motivated, creative, dreamer, realist, people-oriented, stubborn, proactive, passionate for science, innovation and entrepreneurship. In a nutshell, this is how I describe myself as a scientist, project manager, coach and person.

My values are: quality, respect, integrity & honesty.

My Unique Value Proposition: bridge business model innovation and sustainable business model development to support individuals/organizations in creatively and holistically seeking competitive sustainability-oriented change as a way to address the challenges facing us today.

4 bullet-points of myself related to the current topic:

- Highly-skilled and experienced scientist: I have a PhD in Biomedical Sciences with specialization in Cell & Molecular Biology with a focus on cancer, stem cells, immunology and innovative therapies and technologies with 16 years' experience in project management;
- Strong skills and expertise in business development, business model innovation, lean marketing, design thinking and in developing strategies for value creation;
- Entrepreneurial mindset: co-founder & Innovation manager @ "Drone4Care" (winner of EBW2018 President's award for best innovation pitch; Essenscia Innovation Award 2019; Data News Award 2019 "Belgian start-up company"); Founder at "DroneMed" and at "BioTrust Think Do Academy";
- Strong ability to identify, bring, install and put into use new innovative/advanced technologies, tools or know-how useful for projects outcome;

My motto: Success is not final; failure is not fatal; it is the courage to continue that counts.
